

8 December 2016

Media Invitation

Corruption Watch marks International Anti-Corruption Day at Newtown Junction

Corruption Watch invites you to attend an anti-corruption activation on Friday 9 December 2016, to commemorate International Anti-Corruption Day, an annual UN-designated calendar event to raise awareness of corruption. The theme for 2016 is United against corruption for development, peace and security.

For its commemoration of this day, Corruption Watch has devised a variety of commonly used phrases in the advancement of corruption transactions, which form the backdrop of this activation. "Fifty ya coli", "Brown envelope" and "Ng'zame mfethu" and other phrases describe how bribes are often solicited. The activation itself consists of a 3-panel exhibition stand that carries some of these slogans, and that has a built in microphone to invite people to come up and, with the aid of a loudhailer, shout out against corruption.

Date: Friday 9 December 2016

Time: 12h00 – 14h00

Venue: Newtown Junction in open area outside restaurants

Hashtags: #SpeakUpAgainstCorruption
#UnitedAgainstCorruption

RSVP:

Patience Mkosana 072 992-8380 patiocem@corruptionwatch.org.za

Moirac Campbell 083 995 4711 moirac@corruptionwatch.org.za